On 7 August 1951, no surveyors or technicians were observed at Drewitz airfield. Therefore, source assumed that surveying had been completed at the field. About 60 construction laborers were erecting temporary buildings in the field area. Two temporary buildings were completed. *

* Comment. Other sources confirmed that improvement work was planned at the airfield. No hard surface runway exists on the field. Work is to start allegedly after completion of Welzow airfield. It is believed that Drewitz airfield is to be improved within the framework of the 1951/1952 construction program.
